Yukon is home to an abundant variety of wildlife that inhabit the wilderness of the north. Through good management by caring people, we boast strong populations of indigenous mammals and birds.

The “Northern Wildlife Gallery” offers visitors a rare look at many species from the remote corners of this vast land.

The specimens displayed met an untimely end through natural causes or contact with man and were donated for this exhibit.

It is our goal to provide knowledge and understanding that will allow us to continue to live in harmony with our wildlife.

We welcome you to share this unique and educational experience.
